

GOTCHA.

You fell for it.

You opened this file without thinking.

That is exactly how the trap works.

There was no prize. No report. No test. Nothing useful.
Just bait, and you took it from someone you do not even know.

You were not careful enough.

Next time:

- Check the sender before opening any attachment.
 - If a document asks you to log in, close it.
 - Never type credentials into a file.

Remember this feeling. This is what deception feels like.

If someone sent this to teach you a lesson, they did it for a reason.

If no one did, then the bait was real, and you took it.
